

As the Gater Sees It

By ERNIE MIGUEL

Finals and fodder have taken prevalence over work and women in the minds of Staters this week, with the former due to give the finishing touch to the beginning of the new year, and the latter to fatten students for the kill . . .

At least three local organizations have feeds of various sorts planned for the coming week, with North Beach getting the call for the majority of the dinners . . . Girard's Restaurant, Veneto's, and The La Fiesta night club being the locale for the dinners of Alpha Chi Epsilon, the Forensic Council, and the Spanish Club respectively . . . Rumor has it that the diners will adjourn to some of North Beach's colorful spots to finish off the evening . . .

Lights borrowed from deserted classrooms, and chairs and desks taken from places unknown have gone to furnish the new Publications Office in Annex A9 . . . Latest enigma to be solved by State's embryonic journalists is what to do with the sink that is on the end of one of the tables . . . Suggestions to date: 1—Make it symbolic of the Golden Tide . . . fill it with water; 2—Fill it with goldfish to represent the Golden Gaters; 3—Leave it empty to represent the average State brain . . .

Filling a double purpose, the semi-annual Publications Dinner will be held tonight at El Jardin restaurant . . . new editors of the Golden Gater for next semester will be announced as the first order of business and the meeting will later be devoted to a housewarming in honor of moving into new headquarters . . .

Volume One, Number Two of State's newest bit of journalistic enterprise, The CHASER, will put a wary foot forward come the thirteenth of January, boasting as its feature drawings by a Stater who can out-Petty Petty, according to the Hon. Editor . . .

A new constitution for the Associated Students will be put to the student body in a special Constitutional Election at the beginning of next semester, according to Jean Dooley, Gater writer, who received her information from some unknown third person called Clifford Worth by his intimates . . . We hope that it will be put into effect instead of being filed for future reference in a waste basket like the last one was . . .

IMPORTANT

REGISTRATION—January 27
Entrance to the Gymnasium on JANUARY 27 is by signed program card, marked PAID. Any student who does not hold a copy of his spring program signed by his counselor, or grade supervisor, or Registrar's office NOW, should see one of the above mentioned persons IMMEDIATELY.

STUDENTS WILL NOT BE ADMITTED TO THE GYMNASIUM ON JANUARY 27 WITHOUT THESE CARDS.

Friday

Second Chaser Out Jan. 13 More Pages, Pictures, Puns

Chaser, campus journal of features and comedy, expects another birth with the publishing of Vol. 1, No. 2 originally scheduled for January 15, but now forwarded to Friday the 13th.

Coverage for the magazine will increase, although the number of pages is not yet known, since they depend upon the amount of advertising secured.

'CONTRIBUTIONS'

The content of the journal will be very similar to that of the first issue . . . cartoons, jokes, poems, interviews, satire, and features. Jokes, cartoons, and poems will be welcomed as contributions from the student body with the condition that they be accepted on the basis of the standards of quality as set by the News Guild which is publishing the magazine. Contributions should be turned in to Box 1213.

The staff is as follows: co-editors, James Martin and William Buchan; associates, Ed Pierce, Ferdi Jost, and Carol Crouch; fashion, Sibyl Hurning; art editors, Tom Thorpe and Charles Maurer; business manager, Lew Morris; art staff, John Haake, Pearl World, Joseph Lang, Leslie Klepper, Neil Prentice, Mark Lucca, Dorothy LaValle.

New Constitution In Formative Stage; Put To Vote Next Term

By JEAN DOOLEY

A new constitution is being drafted for the San Francisco State College student body by a constitution planning committee composed of Student Body President Clifford Worth as chairman, Edwin Smith, Kay Bailey, Vern Rees, Peggy Smith, and Bob Sweeney. "The approximate date set for general student body vote", stated Worth, "is February 1."

The rewriting which is at present underway is the final version. Tentative agreement among members of the constitution planning committee is to decrease the size of the present Executive Board. The proposed set-up consists of a Student Body Executive Board headed by the president with the following officers: vice-president, secretary, treasurer, two men elected at large, two women elected at large, and four class presidents. The new constitution also includes a section for a new Publications arrangement.

Although the present set-up of eight classes, each with an individual group of officers, would continue, the constitution will allow only presidents of the "high" classes to sit on the Executive Board.

Under this proposed arrangement the Executive Board would consist of 12 members as contrasted with the present 21 Board members. At the present time the following student body officers have a seat on the Board: president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, yell leader, director of Publications, athletic director, adviser men students, adviser women students, women's athletic adviser, music federation president, editor of the Golden Gater, California State Teacher's Association president, and class presidents from the high seniors, low seniors, high juniors, low juniors, high sophomores, low sophomores, high freshmen, and low freshmen.

When it is completed the rewritten constitution will be sent to the Executive Board for approval and then to the general student body for the final vote.

HUNDRED PREP DEBATE TEAMS INVADE STATE'S TOURNEY

Over a hundred debate teams from the high schools of California, Oregon, Washington, and Nevada are expected to attend the Seventh Annual Pacific Coast Invitational High School Forensic Tournament at State on Saturday, January 21, today announced J. Wallace Gallagher, Tournament Director.

'MANY FIELDS'

The tournament includes contests in the fields of Debate, Men's Oratory, Women's Oratory, and Extempore Speaking, judged by debate coaches, prominent San Francisco attorneys, leading writers from the city's newspapers, and college varsity debaters. The question for debate is "Resolved, That the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain." Orations may be on any original subject, while topics for extemporaneous speeches will be chosen from recent issues of TIME magazine.

'GRAND SWEEPSTAKES'

Gold cups will be given to the first and second place winners in each field, and a Grand Sweepstakes Trophy to the school gaining the highest score in all fields. Individual medals will be given to the speakers placing first and second in each field. At the last tournament Lowell High School of San Francisco acquired the Debate and Sweepstakes trophies. George C. Lorbeer, Lowell coach, expresses high hopes of gaining further honors this year, but he is promised some rather gruelling competition, especially from the Oregon schools.

"This year the tournament will hit a new high in interscholastic competition, with more schools invited than ever before, from a wider territory than in previous contests. We have already made this the biggest thing of its kind in the United States, but even that is no bar to our reaching upward to greater heights of achievement. This is a major step in the building of a greater heritage for our college," declared Director Gallagher.

The public is invited to attend the tournament.

Alexis Schelokov Winner Of First Alpha Eta Award

Alexis Schelokov, low junior and present president of the Science Club, Beta Pi Sigma, was chosen by the Dean's Committee as the winner of the Sigma Alpha Eta Scholarship for fall '38. The scholarship entailed $30 in cash to be paid on the Spring registration day.

"Young Chili" is from Harbin, Manchukuo, and intends to become an eminent bacteriologist-chemist. Constantine Shelly, more fondly known as "Chili", is Alexis' brother and preceded Alexis to this country by ten years, and actually paved the way for Alexis to enter.

"This is the greatest Christmas present I have ever received. I can only give my heart-felt thanks to Sigma Alpha Eta for making it possible for me to continue my education," said Alexis upon receiving word of his appointment by the Dean's Committee.

The Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship will be continued semi-annually for the benefit of the most worthy student as selected by the Dean's Committee. It is the hope of the sponsoring fraternity that this fund may be kept alive and perhaps increased in the future.

Publications Dinner Takes Place Tonite At El Jardin Restaurant

El Jardin Restaurant, 22 California Street will be the scene of the semi-annual Publications Dinner, tonight at 7 o'clock.

The feature of the evening will be the announcement of the new semester's editors of the Golden Gater and a short speech by a prominent San Francisco newspaperman.

"This will be one of the best dinners of the semester and all of those receiving invitations and are interested in any way in publications, owe it to themselves to attend," said Connie Field, chairman of the dinner.

The traditional gifts will be awarded to the past semester's editor and business manager.

In attendance will be Tim Guiney, Tom Thorpe, Charles Maurer, James Martin, Jean Dooley, Constance Field, Carol

Senior Picture Deadline Set By Dooley, Franciscan Head

Definite notice that Saturday, January 7, is positively the final date that low and high seniors may have their pictures taken for the 1939 Franciscan, came Wednesday from the Franciscan office. Seniors who object to this abrupt closing date for senior pictures are reminded that the closing date was originally Friday, December 23. Pictures may be taken at Fisher's Studios, 165 Post Street, for 52 cents each. Members of the graduating classes who have had their pictures taken are asked to return the proofs immediately.

Group pictures for the annual have been submitted to the engraver, along with numerous individual photos and football layouts. Copy for the Franciscan is due now, and all presidents of organizations who have not been contacted by a staff member are urged to see Editor Jean Dooley in the Franciscan office, Annex A 5, immediately. This pertains to submitting material for group write-ups.

BERKELEY EXCURSION

The Newman Club of the University of California cordially requests the presence of all Catholic students of San Francisco State College and their friends at an Open House and Dance to be held at Newman Hall, Ridge Road and La Loma Ave., one block north of the University of California campus, from 4 to 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday afternoon, January 24.

Following the dance, the San Francisco State College varsity basketball quintet will meet the potential Coast Conference champion Golden Bear five in the Men's Gymnasium, Bancroft and Dana Streets, at 8:00 p.m. A preliminary tilt between the 145 lb. teams of the two schools is tentatively set for 6:45.

A determined effort is being made to have the State College band, yell leaders and a large rooting section on hand for the game. Cowbells, horns, and sirens promise a gay and noisy time for those in the State rooting section.

Scenes of the Campus are distributed throughout the 1939 Franciscan with particular attention devoted to campus life. Scenes of the Golden Gate International Exposition will also be tied in with the central theme of campus life.

Marshall Blum, business manager of the Franciscan, who had to quit because of numerous other activities, has been replaced by Jack Hulbert and Wade Brummal who will handle the advertising, etc. jointly.

January seniors are once more urged to purchase their annual now in order to reserve it for May when the book will make its appearance on the campus.

HOME FOR FEEBLE

New Quarters
New Typewriters
New Pep

Typewriters are again snapping in a newly changed Publications office. The debaters and the journalists have traded workshops, and both parties seem well satisfied. The debaters have a remodeled office and a newly laid floor. The journalists have a bigger layout, if not as pretty.

First job was to move out the debaters personal belongings. Second necessity was to shorten the legs of the high tables in the now-the-Gater office so something besides a giraffe could reach the typewriter keys. Thanks to the carpenter, that was soon done.

With the furniture in better shape, the typewriters were installed. Four new Royals appeared with all the trimmings . . . Tab, tab set, tab clear, and margin release. Particularly novel is the touch control screw to set for either nimble or stiff fingers and the magic adjustment . . . set the space bar, yank a lever and push it back, and the margin flies into place. Duck your head twice and you're safe.

Under the leadership of Mr. Meyer with the aid of Dr. Treutlein, publications are really getting started again, after continual setbacks throughout the entire last semester. The hope remains that a long range program may give stimulus and strength to the present publications setup.

The State journalism unit tentatively plans to draw all beginning journalists into the greatest possible participation, to give wider and better training to those students already blessed with a small amount of experience, and to add courses of study to the small number now present in the general field.

The Gater is going through a period of reorganization, while the Franciscan, year book of State College, is still plugging along. Obstacle after obstacle has been met and (the staff hopes) has been conquered. The cancellation of funds for new buildings meant the loss of the already accepted theme . . . the change from the old to the new . . . but this last straw has not yet managed to break the camel's back.

Chaser, newly established comic journal, is being given the finishing touches for its second appearance on the campus. It seems to have survived the tremendous effort necessary when Vol. 1, No. 1 was in the making. An increased number of pages has been promised.

If the magazine is to take a firm hold on the State campus, it must insure maintenance of quality and increase in size. The quality will depend upon the efforts of the News Guild members, publishers of the Chaser, but the increase in size will depend largely upon the advertisers.

However the greatest necessity is the cooperation and good-will of each student . . . for the students are the ones the Chaser serves. Greater student cooperation can be given by purchase of the magazine and contributions toward each issue. It is hoped the Chaser will bring State College activities more nearly parallel to the widespread activities of the large universities.

A few statistics: The Golden Gate International Exposition, now nearing completion, will use about 30,000,000 board feet of lumber.

—The S.F.J.C. Guardsman

"Summaries are great falsifiers and must not be trusted. A skeleton is a poor illustration of a man."

—St. John Ervine in The Observer, London

During exam week at Georgia Tech, a professor found the first half of a two-part exam on his desk without a name. After reading it over, he stood up before the class and holding the paper in his hand, said: "Will the dumbest person in the room please stand, and maybe we can find out to whom this paper belongs?" The minutes ticked by. Finally a student rose. The professor asked: "So you're the dumbest one?" The student replied meekly: "No sir, I didn't like to see you standing there by yourself."

According to Frank K. Walter, University of Minnesota librarian, dime novels got their start toward popularity as Sunday school literature.

—Saint Mary's Collegian

Students at Purdue University have to purchase university licenses before they are allowed to drive their cars on the campus.

From the Ball State News we get the following: A fellow shouldn't be surprised if a girl who is built like a house expects a lot.

Uncle: "I'll give you a nickel for a kiss."

Niece: "No, thank you. I can make more money taking castor oil."

The distance between some people's ears is one block.

EDITORIALS

Editorials and feature articles in the Golden Gater reflect only the writer's opinion. They make no claim to represent student or administration opinion. All unsigned editorials are by the Editor.

FROM THE EDITOR

Thanks For Everything . . .

This is our editorial swan song, the final issue in which we give thanks to those who helped us in the production of this newspaper during the past semester. First and foremost, our most profound thanks to our two excellent managing editors of the past semester, Connie Field and Ernie Miguel. Their work was invaluable to our editorial production, and without their aid this paper would have been unable to meet its many deadlines.

Thanks also to Ed Pierce, who consistently turned out ace columns for the paper, refusing to retrench in the face of what at times seemed to be overwhelming opposition. To J. Wallace Gallagher, to Ed Smith, Alex Edelstein, Lew Jost, Art Monsees, Lew Morris, Wilma Hill, Jean Dooley, Niel Martin, Hugh Lowther, Gordon Lewis, Bob Norton, Jim Martin, and Bill Molloy, goes our deepest editorial gratitude.

Last, but certainly not least, to Mr. Luther Meyer and Dr. Theodore Treutlein, who have been consistently the staunchest supporters of publications on the campus, as well as to Dr. Roy Cave, always a friend of the embryonic journalists.

This done, we take our leave, leaving with the new editors our most sincere wishes for editorial success in the coming semester.

TIM GUINEY

FROM THE STAFF

Good Luck To Guiney . . .

The most hectic semester in the history of the Golden Gater has just passed . . . yet the leadership of Tim Guiney has brought greater improvement to the paper than has any other one semester . . .

Despite such handicaps as a belligerent student body and faculty, the fire that destroyed all of the Publication Department's equipment, the temporary office with only one typewriter, and a limited staff with which to work, Guiney has led the Gater to greater technical, typographical, and editorial perfection.

With the beginning of the new semester a new editorial staff will be appointed, no longer will Guiney spend long nights working on the next day's publication . . . instead our editor will be active in his new position on the editorial staff of the San Francisco Chronicle, and we of the present Golden Gater staff sincerely wish Tim success in his new profession.

FROM SPORTS ED.

Classy Casabans

It pleases me to inform you ladies and gentlemen that San Francisco State College really has a basketball team this year. After seeing them wallop the daylights out of the Y.M.I. quintet Wednesday evening (and the Y.M.I. team is composed of former college stars), I can only reach the conclusion that they will take the pants off all the smaller schools and give the big bugs such as Stanford and California a mighty scare. Last year's high scorer Joe Sanz did not get off to any a too good start this semester. However, the other evening he really returned to last year's form when he tanked fourteen points, only playing a small portion of the contest. Sanz along with the sensational Collingwood, the marvelous cocky Kerwin, the fighting Billy Hammond, the firm and stalwart Bill Plutte, the fancy Ernie Loustalot, the dynamic Red Russell, the steady Thayer, Madigan, Rubin, Fisher, and the remainder of the stars present a group of casabans that might mop up on any five in the country. Even the jaysees from Galileo High School cheered for State the other night when the Y's All-American Conroy charged into Sanz. But they were not yelling for Conroy, they were actually for our man. Yes, San Francisco State College has a real basketball team. Coach Dan Farmer is doing a wonderful job in moulding them into one of the fastest breaking outfits I have ever seen. Come out and see OUR team trounce the Olympic Club with its galaxy of stars. The game is Tuesday night at the Kezar Pavilion.

PHIL SCHMIDT

Alcatraz !! Unexploited

By "RED" LEWIS

Ever since the boys in Washington got together and decided that Uncle Sam should have his Own "Devil's Island", our fair city has been receiving publicity no end. Movies such as "Alcatraz" and the "Last Gangster" have done much to make our little community become known. Even the citizens of Los Angeles are willing to admit that, if nothing else, San Francisco has Alcatraz, and they can make swell movies about same. What amazes me is that one of the Chamber of Commerce characters hasn't seen the opportunities for publicity connected with this island.

Several "extra-curricula" activities for the inmates could be fostered which would cast the national eye toward our city. There could be a New Years Day football game scheduled between the Sing-Sing Dandies and the Alcatraz Finks for the "Gold Bowl" championship. Why not? Every other city in America has a "Bowl" game, and we may as well take advantage of our town's greatest asset, Alcatraz Prison.

The Sing-Sings wouldn't have much to offer in the way of big names, having lost their biggest drawing card last year when "Alabama" Pitts graduated. Consequently, our boys would get all the write-ups. The papers would be filled with the exploits of "Snakehips" Capone and "Bullet Pass" Kelly; with publicity such as this it wouldn't be long before the rest of the nation would find out that San Francisco has two of the world's largest bridges.

The Exposition Committee could sponsor the play by play broadcast and let somebody know that we are planning to have a sort of World's Fair some time next year; they might even induce a few people to stop in on our Exposition on their way to the New York World's Fair we read so much about.

If the Exposition lads were smart they would feature a "Prison Exhibit". They could have Warden Lawes giving lectures on his books, Tom Mooney giving speeches (he should be free by then), and Al Capone cutting out paper dolls. I know it sounds crude but think of the crowds it would draw!

Besides, the publicity dept. for the Fair (if there is one) has been keeping the public in the dark, and it will take something just as sensational as this to offer competition to the well publicized New York Exposition.

News Guild Formulates Plans

Tentative plans were announced by the editors of Chaser, newest college comic, to sponsor a press day for various high school and junior college editors. The gathering would be held during the national convention of the American Newspaper Guild and would be given in conjunction with San Francisco State Chapter of the News Guild.

In formulating the plans for the press convention, the editors of the Chaser will work in conjunction with the members of the San Francisco-Oakland Newspaper Guild

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF ESTABLISHING A PROCTOR SYSTEM AT STATE?

(A proctor is a student who is appointed by the instructor to take an examination with the other members of the class, however, when the instructor leaves the room, it is the duty of the proctor to report all those students who resort to cheating in an examination.)

DAVID COLVIG, '41: Nobody likes an international spy. Therefore, could we break this maxim and trust a classroom spy?

RICHARD DATE, '41: I think it is a fine idea. (I don't cheat during examinations anyway.) If this system were adopted here the class average would be down to normal. This would give honest students an even break.

HUGH LOWTHER, '39: Such a system would tend to build up a certain antagonism between the teacher and the student. If the proctor were found out he would be ostracized from student society.

MARY ANNE CHAPMAN, '41: College morale would be lowered if the proctor system were used here. If the instructor cannot trust us, then, should we trust him?

BEA DELANEY, '41: Well! In the first place I think it is a stupid idea. However, if there were enough money in it for a proctor, then I'd be willing to take the job myself.

FRANK MULDOON, '38: Those that cheat in examinations do not belong at college. Let's not encourage these people that fall into this category to continue to resort to this method. However, let's not adopt the proctor system here.

ED SMITH, '39: The proctor system is the first constructive project in the administration of examinations to come to State.

ROBERT AKER, '40: Why establish a proctor system here? If an instructor can't keep law and order in the class then, I say, "Get another instructor".

EDITH TAYLOR, '42: The proctor system is no good. Take it from me—I know. The proctor would be greatly disliked by the students.

BETTY JOSUE, '42: I do not approve of fellow students telling on persons that cheat in tests. Such cheating should not be encouraged, however, if they don't know better, I think they should not enter college.

and will attempt to get prominent journalists in the national field as featured speakers.

Nomination of officers and a discussion of the Chaser were the main points of a meeting held on Wednesday, January 4. Three candidates were listed for president, Lew Jost, Ed Pierce and Tom Thorpe. Carol Crouch and Jean Dooley will contest for the vice-presidency. James Martin was nominated for secretary and Lew Morris was re-nominated for treasurer. The nominations were by acclamation.

PURPLE PURGERS COP STATE CASABA TOURNEY AWARDS AS TOM COLLINGWOOD STARS; SAN DIEGO WINS MOST GAMES; S.F. SNAGS TEAM AND INDIVIDUAL SCORING CUPS

Sigma Pi Sigma To Collide With Playground Directors For Final Intramural Basketball Ribbons

It's Sigma Pi Sigma versus The Playground Directors, for the intramural championship in basketball, today at 12:20 in the gym. Sigma Pi Sigma won their way into the finals by a 33-10 victory over the Slap Hoppers on Wednesday, and a 21-15 win against the Lindy Hoppers yesterday. The Playground Directors trounced the Dribblers 44 to 31 in another tilt yesterday, to become the other finalist.

In Wednesday's Sigma Pi Sigma vs. Slap Hoppers battle, the fraternity team went into an early lead which they were able to hold and lengthen during the game. Excellent pass work was the main factor of the victory.

The tilt between Sigma Pi Sigma and the Lindy Hoppers found superior team play again a big issue of the game. Forwards Don McRitchie and Jack McGann accounted for the majority of the points.

Lead for Augie Venturie, the Playground Directors won their game without much trouble. Before the game was more than a few minutes old they had run up a ten point lead, and were able to coast into victory from there in.

In looking over the two teams that are to play today, it looks like anybody's ball game. The Sigma Pi Sigma team is rather small in size, but have forwards such as McRitchie, McGann, and Art Marder, who are extremely fast and able to make a good percentage of their shots good. Center Bob Wolf, and guards Alex Edelstein, Bob Anderson, and Bob Buckley, also depend on their speed and precision to outdo their taller opponents.

The Playground Directors stand up as a well balanced outfit. They are the tallest team in the league and combine this advantage with good shooting and an excellent defense. They were employing such a tight man to man defense in the early part of their game with the Dribblers, that many times they got the ball before their opponents could even bring it all the way down the court. Venturie at forward, Ed Castro at guard, "Babe" Arlington at center, stacked up as the big guns of the Directors.

Staters Humble Y.M.I. Casabans; Sanz Gets Hot

Last Wednesday's Y.M.I. clash found the fast breaking Purgers fairly butchering the hoop with slicing shots from all angles in the opening minutes of play to run up a 20-6 lead on a badly confused Institute five.

The halftime count stood at 25-14 in favor of the collegians but the former Santa Clara and San Francisco University stars rallied in the second period bringing the count to 43-31 as Coach Farmer yanked his starting quintet with three minutes remaining. Eddie Conroy and Paul Yaeger romped through and around the reserves in a closing spurt that brought the score near respectability, but hardly what a highly rated and exceptionally tall Y.M.I. team had expected.

SANZ STANDS OUT
Jaeger, former Don great, paced the point makers with 18. Joe Sanz and Dave Kerwin tallied 14 and 11 points respectively to lead the winners. Sanz, swishing five beautiful field goals in the opening half, injured his left arm in a collision with Conroy and was forced to retire for a greater part of the game only to return in the second canto with a couple of one hand flip shots that had most of the 1,206 spectators standing up in amazement.

Thus, the Y.M.I. became the first of Northern California's "Big Four" to bow to the Destiny Five. The Institute boys came, saw more than enough, and were duly conquered. Next week it will be the Olympic Club, then Stanford, finally California.

The PURPLE PURGE has been unleashed perhaps to go on until Northern California courts are swept clean. For, 'tis rumored, there isn't room enough in the Bay area for more than one GREAT team and Fuerher Farmer means it to be STATE.

Official signup for State's 1939 varsity golf squad starts today and will climax with a meeting Tuesday noon in Mr. Cox's office.

It is important that every male student enrolled, who is interested in the divot digging sport attach his name to the list that is posted on the bulletin board outside the co-op.

In addition to winning the official Block "S" award, members of the team will get their green fees paid, plus new balls for the matches which include Cal Aggies, College of Pacific, San Mateo Junior College, Marin Junior College, and possibly California and Stanford.

Anyone interested should contact Dave Schutz, golf manager, for details. Schutz, Doc Smith, and Jack Fischer form a nucleus for the team, being block winners of last year. Harry Robey, Runar Stone, and Dave Schiller are newcomers to the team, but at least four more men are necessary.

GATERS LEAD SAN DIEGO UNTIL CLOSING MINUTES WHEN FRESH DIEGANS GO AHEAD 28-25

By WILLIAM W. H. P. BRUMMAL

San Francisco's scintillating offense, Chico's fluctuating defense and San Diego's all around brilliance stole the limelight from the other four colleges entered throughout the first annual State College Cage Clinic at San Jose last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Dan Farmer's high scoring machine, however, walked off with a major portion of the honors in garnering two trophies, one as the leading point making combination and a second through the individual efforts of Tireless Tom Collingwood, sensational center.

Nosed out by a classy San Diego quintet 28-25 in their final performance, the Staters lost their bid for a third trophy as the Southerners finished with the best win and loss record. Paced by Collingwood and Wild Billy Hammond, the Purple Purgers led until the final minutes of play.

CINDERMEN TO OPEN SEASON AT CIVIC AUDITORIUM JAN. 28

By SCOOP

Kicking cinders into the eyes of the Pacific Coast's leading collegiate runners will be the aim of some dozen State track hopefuls as Coach David J. Cox's thin-clad artists open their 1939 season in the San Francisco Indoor Invitational at the Civic Auditorium on Saturday night, January 28.

Heading the local cinder crew will be Fred Kline, veteran distance star, who is expected to prove a big threat to several highly heralded entries from California, Stanford and San Jose State.

Other veterans entered will include Glass, pole vault; Leavitt, distance; Pantages, weights, Robey, javelin; Richardson, 440; Stein, weights; Theofield, sprints; Wilkes, hurdles; Shultz, hurdles; Lindlow, 440; Hodgins, shot; Brown, hurdles; Lagerson, distance; Woddill, sprints; Quartero, weights, and Schmidt, 220.

Not much is known of several new men expected to enter the Indoor Invitational but Coach Cox is hoping to uncover some prospective winners. Additional distance men in particular are being sought as immediately following the Indoor Meet, a novice Cross Country race will be held in Golden Gate Park on Sunday, February 21.

Any candidates for the spring track squad should consult Coach Cox or Fred Kline as soon as possible. Already scheduled are the annual Interclass Meet on February 23 and the All Star High School Meet on March 4.

GOLDEN GATOR SPORT FLASHES

THE PURGE IS ON!

First to fall was the Young Men's Institute, wiped out by a 43-39 margin in the Kezar Pavilion Wednesday night.

Next on the executioner's list is the Olympic Club, scheduled to meet the Purple Purgers' vengeance in the same casaba slaughter house next Tuesday evening at 7:45.

Then comes Stanford University at Palo Alto on Saturday night, January 21, followed by the University of California on the Berkeley court Tuesday evening, January 24.

Sandwiched in between these titanic events is a planned two day expedition across the Nevada border and a dual stand with the Wildcats at Reno on Friday and Saturday, January 13 and 14.

FORTY FIVES LOSE

The stalwart St. Ignatius High School Varsity basketballers possessed too fine a defense for the State forty-fives to crack Wednesday evening in the State gym and took a low scoring contest by a 29 to 20 victory. State scorers were: Jack McGann, 10 points; Bob Wolf, 4 points; Archie Steinbach, 4 points; and Wally Young, 2 points.

San Diego; Group B—Chico and Humboldt; Group 3—San Jose and Santa Barbara, and Group 4—Fresno.

An all star team would include Collingwood (San Francisco) center; Phelps (San Diego and Schlueter (Chico) forwards, and Kerwin (San Francisco) and Guerrero (Santa Barbara) guards.

Wednesday night found State getting off to a rather poor start by losing their opening tussle 23-22 to an on and off Humboldt State five. Lanky Buzz Thornton, 6'7" colored center, and a dead eyed forward, Jack Givens, offset the fine work of Collingwood and Hammond.

Coming back in their second clash Wednesday night, San Francisco edged Art Acker's smooth working Chico State cagers 19-17 but didn't loom as much of a threat to the favored San Jose and San Diego squads.

Surprising some two thousand partisan fans that had turned out to watch the home town Spartans romp to victory, the Purple Purgers blazed away to a 23 to 5 lead before San Jose dropped their first field goal through the net with only four minutes and thirteen seconds remaining to play. A guard, Bull Lewis, became San Jose's hero of the moment with a one hand push shot from the foul line.

Substituting his second stringers, Farmer practically allowed the home towners to pull up to a 31-16 count as the game ended. The game following Chico's 20-16 victory over San Jose, left the San Jose students in an ill humor for San Francisco's 33-18 victory over a mediocre Fresno State team. But even the boos of the gallery couldn't stop the Staters once they were hot and for the second time during the evening the Golden Tide (the squad switched from purple to gold uppers between games pushed the ball through the hoop with mechanical regularity.

Collingwood scored 21 points, Kerwin 14 and Hammond 12 to lead the invading horde from the Twin Peak slope. Plutte, Sanz and Loustalot stood out defensively and even Smiling Jack Fisher tossed in a free throw.

Friday found the State casabans running into an inspired Santa Barbara defense which bowed 26-22 after putting up an unexpectedly bitter fight. Tom Guerrero, Gaucho captain, led the undoped rebellion of the big green team.

The Santa Barbara contest had its effect on the Staters in the finale with San Diego which was the most important game of the tourney. The Purple Purgers tired badly in the final minutes and lost an early established lead.

All games were confined to a single twenty minute half and ties were not played off. On their tournament showing, your correspondent would rate the teams as follows: Group A—San Francisco and

Intramural Boxing Golfsters Sign-up

With intramural basketball reaching its climax today, State students will focus their attention on the first annual intramural boxing tournament which has been definitely scheduled to commence February 2. The matches will be held in the evening in the Women's Gymnasium, and Manager Bud Werner has promised a new lighting arrangement which will give off an appropriate ring atmosphere.

Winners in each weight division will be presented with suitable awards and will also form the nucleus for the varsity boxing team. According to Manager Werner, the entry list is still open and anyone desirous of participating must contact him before February 1. More than twenty pugilists have already signified their intention of swapping blows for the title. Wrestling matches will be arranged and will intersperse the boxing.

Among the fisticuffs already entered are Mario Machi, Chad Reade, Bill Plutte, Frank Pope, Dave Schiller, Al Barros, and John Pichotto.

Euthanasia, Venereal Diseases Discussed By Beta Pi Sigma

Beta Pi Sigma, the new science club, will conclude its activities for the fall semester with a meeting to be held on Tuesday, January 10 at 12:10 in Room A 5 (Anderson Hall).

"Euthanasia" will be the topic of the main speech of the meeting to be given by vice president of the organization, Nick Munson. The central theme of his speech will be whether or not doctors should be allowed to permit incurably diseased patients to die.

The Science Club, although it has been in existence for only a short time, presented many speakers during this semester. Bert Stuehler, a pre-med student at State, delivered a talk on the "Recent Advances in Biochemical Therapy of Cancer", in which he discussed the various developments in the therapy of this disease by a San Francisco doctor.

Dr. Helen Mackler of the State of California Department of Public Health, addressed the group on January 3. Her topic was "The Intelligent Man's Attack on Venereal Diseases".

During the spring semester the club plans to present more speakers on various topics of scientific interest, as well as seminars, and films. The latter will be shown in the middle of February. Two films have been ordered from the University of California.

Alexis Schelokov is president of Beta Pi Sigma.

Farewell Dinner For Spanish Club Officers

A farewell dinner for the outgoing officers of the Los Lazarillos, State's Spanish Club, will be held Saturday, January 7, at the La Fiesta Club in North Beach.

The departing officers are: president, Sarita Canedo; vice president, Anna Damienakes; secretary, Polly Anna Peck.

Dancing and a floor show will complete the evening. Price of the dinner is approximately $1.25.

Thomson, Rowe Receive Degrees

For the first time in State's history, two professors of this college received their doctor's degrees from Stanford University in the same class.

They are Dr. Somerville Thomson, instructor of Romance Languages, and Dr. Robert Rowe, instructor in the Natural Science Department.

According to Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of the college, every State instructor who receives a doctor's degree from Stanford raises Stanford's opinion of State, and that State's prestige has been strengthened in higher education circles by having two teachers receive degrees in the same class.

Happy Combination
...a new year
...a new SMOKING
PLEASURE

Make Chesterfield
your New Year's resolution
...they'll give you more pleasure than any cigarette you ever smoked.

Chesterfields are better because of what they give you—refreshing mildness, better taste and aroma.

Chesterfields are the right combination of mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos—rolled in pure cigarette paper.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure...why THEY SATISFY.
